

What will happen if the levy is not renewed?

The citizens committee appreciates the compassion and understanding of the Portage County voters who have renewed the issue since its passage in 1985. The levy brings in $1.6 million of the agency's annual budget; about 17.35%. What is so important about this levy is the Portage County Children Services uses levy funds as match to bring in more than $1 million in state and federal funds each year.

In the past few years the heroin epidemic has brought on an increased number of children with a multitude of needs. Without the support of the Portage County voters the Children Services budget would be significantly reduced resulting in a decrease or loss of support services placing children at high risk for continued abuse or neglect.
